YOU SHOULD ATTEND THE IAGG 2017 WORLD CONGRESS

1. Learn from Our Impressive Lineup of Speakers and Sessions
   Attracting more than 8,000 abstract submissions, IAGG 2017 is one of the biggest and most exciting global events in the fields of gerontology and geriatrics. Beginning with dynamic pre-conference workshops that lead into a jam-packed schedule of scientific sessions and keynotes, you will hear from expert researchers and practitioners from across the world as they tackle today’s most pressing challenges.

2. Network with Thousands of Peers
   Through a variety of networking events, IAGG 2017 creates opportunities to bring attendees together to make meaningful connections, explore research collaborations, and build strong working relationships.

3. Get Inspired
   Attendees will leave IAGG 2017 feeling inspired, invigorated, and motivated to put newly acquired skills and knowledge into practice.

4. Meet with Vendors and Suppliers
   Discover innovative products and services to help your business stay competitive and cutting-edge in today’s ever-changing health care landscape.

5. Join Us in Beautiful San Francisco!
   San Francisco, one of California’s many beautiful cities, is the venue for IAGG 2017 and a top international tourist destination—offering some of the most diverse sightseeing activities, cuisine, music, and art in the country.

Interact with more than 6,000 of the best and brightest global professionals in the aging field. Register at iagg2017.org/register-now by April 13 for a chance to win a free roundtrip airline ticket from Delta.
PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Choose from among twelve pre-conference workshops being offered at IAGG 2017. These pre-conference workshops offer a unique opportunity to explore a number of specialized topics before the main conference.

Additional fees and advanced registration are required for pre-conference workshops.

TECH DAY

Technology and Aging: Innovation for Independence and Inclusion

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 2017
8:30 AM – 8:00 PM
The IAGG 2017 World Congress will offer an unprecedented one-day Technology and Aging Track that will bring together leading companies, gerontologists, and entrepreneurs engaged in developing technology solutions for older adults. Technology has the potential to improve the lives of a growing proportion of today’s aging population by helping them maintain independence and increase control of their environments.

This event will feature symposia on key innovations in robotics, autonomous vehicles, virtual and augmented reality, predictive analytics, and other emerging technologies as well as a startup pitch event, “minute madness” and a Startup Alley.

The fee for Tech Day is included in the IAGG 2017 World Congress registration. For individuals wishing to take part only in this event, a separate fee is available.
